SPECIALISTS

About Us

Amex Outsourcing offers specialised services that empower businesses within the hospitality sector to streamline operations and focus on what truly matters – delivering exceptional guest experiences.

With a wealth of experience in payroll, human resources, and customer service, we provide comprehensive outsourcing services tailored to meet the unique demands of the hospitality industry. Our services help reduce operational costs, improve efficiency, and ensure compliance with industry standards, allowing you to allocate more resources towards guest satisfaction and business growth.

Employment Status

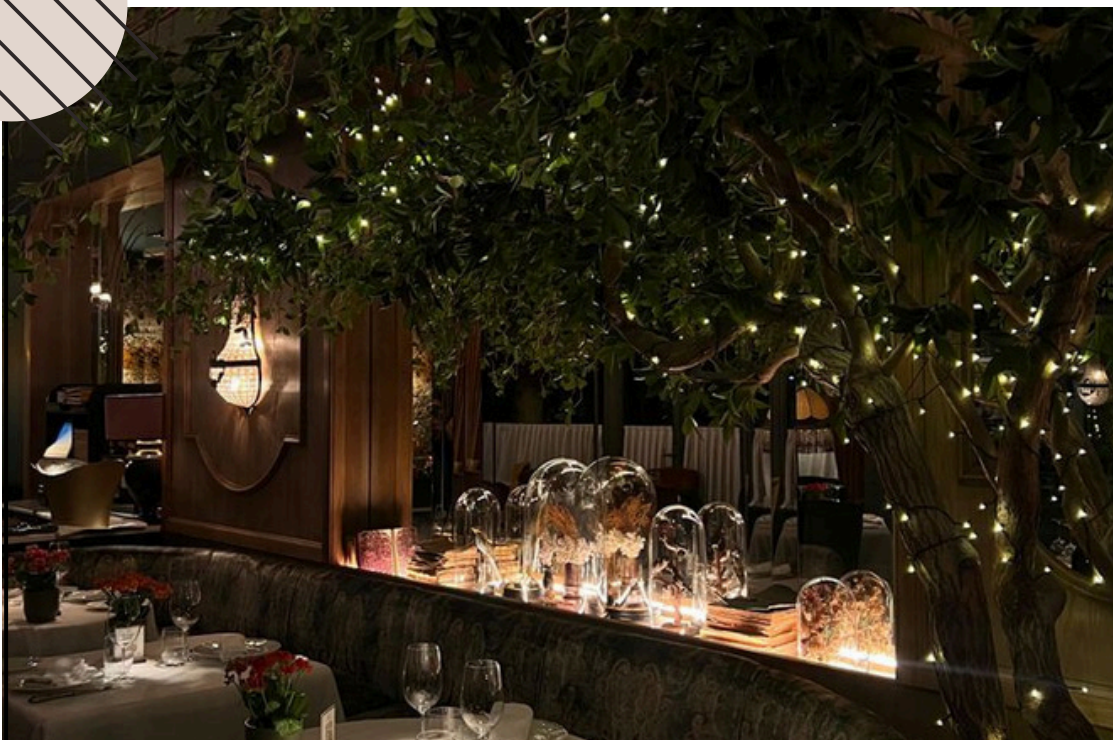

In the hospitality sector, employment status plays a pivotal role in managing a flexible and compliant workforce, especially given the seasonal and often fluctuating nature of demand. Amex Outsourcing offers tailored services designed to streamline employment processes through the use of our payroll services, ensuring both businesses and employees are fully supported and compliant with UK employment law.

The hospitality industry relies heavily on temporary, seasonal, and part-time workers to meet varying demand levels throughout the year. Whether it's hotels, restaurants, event management, or tourism, businesses often face challenges around employment status, including worker classification, tax liabilities, and benefits. At AMEX Outsourcing, we provide a model that simplifies the employment status of workers, making it easier for businesses to manage temporary and seasonal staff without the administrative burden.

Our Services

Payroll & HR Services We understand the complexities of managing a hospitality workforce, from shift-based roles to compliance with labour laws. Our payroll services ensure accurate, timely payments while handling tax calculations and deductions, relieving you from administrative burdens. Additionally, our HR support services offer bespoke recruitment and employee management services.

Cost Efficiency & Compliance Outsourcing non-core activities such as payroll, HR, and customer support allows your business to focus on core hospitality services, significantly reducing overheads. We also ensure that your business complies with the latest industry regulations, freeing you from the risk of costly fines and ensuring a smooth operational flow.
